

Louis Gave Discusses the Gold & AI: Deflationary Boom Ahead with Soar Financially

Take Our Compatibility Survey

In this insightful interview on the Soar Financially show, Louis-Vincent Gave breaks down the key forces reshaping the global economy. The discussion covers gold's surge past $3,700, the challenges facing AI companies burning through billions, and why the Federal Reserve's moves may matter less amid a supply-driven shift from Asia's re-industrialization. Gave also explores the potential rise of a China-India-Russia alliance, the case for structurally higher gold, and how investors can position portfolios toward real assets and Asia-linked opportunities over crowded U.S. tech stocks.
