

Evergreen Ventures Podcast: Uncharted Optimism

Welcome to the inaugural Evergreen Ventures podcast, Uncharted Optimism. Evergreen Ventures is the private investment arm of Evergreen. We seek investments in private markets that offer unique return profiles in markets that are less understood and not as available to the average investor. This includes venture capital, private equity, and private credit, to name a few. On this podcast, Evergreen's CEO, Tyler Hay, will access his rolodex and chat with guests who are pushing the edge of innovation, whether that's in investing or inventing new products and services. Today the subtopic is an exploration of venture capital with one of Seattle's godfathers of this industry: John Connors.
